Boater Says Cable Blocks Navigation

A Chain O'Lakes area boater has been forced to move his boats to another marina after ten years because of a cable that extends across the waterway, 15 feet above the water.

John M. Annis, who has rented a slip for his sailboat at the Golden Griffon Marina for the last decade, has written Congressman Phil Crane and US Senator Alan J. Dixon about his problem.

He has not had any success with the US Cable Co. which put the cable across the channel waterway between Bluff Lake and Petite Lake.

His problems were still unsolved when Phillip Uterhart, the owner of the Golden Griffon wrote his congressman last year. Uterhart, according to a letter from Annis, passed away in December of 1984 and his widow, Bonnie Uterhart has been unable to pursue the matter any more.

The Golden Griffon has lost access to sailing waters because of the cable and Annis said that the business has lost at least four sailboats renting slips, plus a number of launch ramp fees because of the problem.

Another marina, C.J. Smith Resort and Marina, has the same problem with sailboat launching because of the cable.

Annis' problem is that he cannot fit the mast of his 26-foot high sailboat under the 15-foot high cable. He must now pay an additional $300 to relocate his sailboat to another marina.

4-H King Makes Most Of Year-Long Reign

Dennis Walsh is preparing to hang up his crown as the last Lake County 4-H king. Walsh, a six-year member of 4-H, said that it will probably be better next year when 4-H is represented by an Ambassador Corps.

"It'll give more people a chance to do what I did," the Antioch High School junior said.

What he did was represent Lake County since September of 1984. He will finish his reign with Queen Tara Koslowski of Fox Lake in September.

"It's a good experience," Walsh said. "I met a lot of new people."

The 16-year-old spent much of his time between July 24 and July 28 at the Lake County Fair in Grayslake.

He won three ribbons in three different categories. His top honor went in the miscellaneous category where he won reserve grand champion.

His miscellaneous entry, a scale model of a house he designed, is what the king plans on pursuing as a career. He has already taken an architecture class in high school.

His scale drawing of a redecorated room, the piece that won him an 'A' ribbon, will be his entry in the Illinois State Fair in Springfield on August 9 and 10.

Walsh said he would stay in 4-H until he was 19, which is the limit. The teen's spirit was best displayed by his expectations of success in the fair.

"I didn't expect to win," Walsh said, "but I did the best I could."

Girl's Senior League Takes Second Place

The Antioch Senior League Girls Softball team finished in second place in the state sectionals, losing to only one team throughout the tournament.

The team began by winning the district title over Grant, something that no Antioch team has done before.

Once down in Beardstown, just west of Springfield, the girls began their quest for a state title.

The first game was rough on the team as they were beaten by the home-town team 15-3. They stayed with it and won their next two games, beating Elgin 24-6 and sneaking by Sterling 5-4.

The team had another shot at Beardstown, but could not hold them back, losing by a score of 23-9.

According to Coach Melody Fahrner, the girls had to battle more than just opponents as injuries and illness hindered them. The weather was also extremely hot, nearing 100 degrees in the shade with very high humidity.

The girls became the first Antioch team ever to take a district flag when they beat Grant 16-13 and 10-8.

Fair Attendance Drops

Smaller crowds visited this year's Lake County Fair, but the summer festivities were still a hit.

The fair opened on Wednesday, July 17, drawing a crowd of 15,900. The first night was highlighted by the crowning of the new Miss Lake County Fair Queen—Laura Jakubec, a graduate of Barrington High School.

The five-day fair attracted 149,000 people to the fairgrounds in Grayslake, down from last year's record-breaking attendance of 165,000.

Approximately 47,000 people flocked to the fair on Saturday for the champion livestock auction. Sunday's demolition derby and tractor pull drew 45,000 fair-goers.

Walter Krumrey,

secretary of the Lake County Fair Board, said it will take several weeks to determine whether or not the fair was profitable. There were more expenses this year, including the construction of a new fair office and a new set of bleachers.

Another improvement at this year's fair was the Lake County sheriff's police control of traffic. Krumrey said there were no mile backups like last year. However, parking posed a problem, Krumrey said. Some cars were blocked into the parking lot by other cars.

There was a greater food variety this year, but the cafeteria was always full. People complained that there was no place to sit, Ronald Weidner, superintendent of the commercial section of the fair said.

There were some improvements; there were some complaints. All in all, things went smoothly at this big event, Weidner said.

Sponsor Gown Display

During the month of August, three Victorian summer white gowns will be on display at Hawthorn Center in Vernon Hills. The gowns will be exhibited on Victorian mannequins in a gazebo setting in the Marshall Field Court.

The exhibit entitled "Summer Whites" is curated by staff members Janet Gallimore-Smith and Thelma Shanks.

The museum is open daily from 1-4:30 p.m. It is located seven and one-half miles west of Mundelein in the Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176.

YMCA's Offer Many Programs

by DEBBIE HORVE

Swimming has always been a popular summer sport and this summer it still remains one of the fun ways to keep fit and cool.

Ravenswood YMCA in Lake Villa reports that the swim program at Ravenswood still has its filled classes.

Ravenswood offers parent and tot programs which are for children six months to two years, a preschool program for three to five year olds and a youth program for six years old and up.

Ravenswood offers a special "Aquatic" fitness program. This is specially designed for participants to keep in shape, according to a Ravenswood employee.

The program has been very successful and each class has reached full capacity.

Duncan YMCA, in Round Lake, reports that the swimming programs Duncan has available are also popular this summer and classes are full up.

Duncan offers swimming classes for children six months of age up to senior citizen aged people.

A special competitive swim class is also offered by Duncan. This is one of the only classes of its sort, one Duncan employee stated.

The class is offered to kids interested in swim team competition. The only requirement is that the participant should have already passed beginning swimming.

Duncan also offers several special exercise programs this summer. The water aerobics class offers strenuous exercise that is a lot of fun. The class is offered Monday evenings and Tuesday mornings and both are pretty full and met with enthusiasm.

An arthritis class is also offered at Duncan. This class is made up of gentle exercise that is designed to increase flexibility in the joints. The program was developed by the American Arthritis Foundation in conjunction with the YMCA and is for people of all ages affected with arthritis.

Duncan YMCA offers an Aqua Yoga class which is an exercise program that has slower exercises which stress the stretching aspect of exercising.

Duncan serves many people for different areas and is proud of how the instructors get along with the students. Duncan YMCA finds that this is important when working with kids since they may be afraid to get in the water if they do not like the teacher.

Announce Seminar

The fourth and final presentation in the Landscape Art Seminar will bring the series to a conclusion on Saturday Aug. 3. Lisa Lewenz, a Chicago based artist will present an hour-long slide show of contemporary artists who use landscape as inspiration for their work. The presentation will begin at 11 a.m. in the Ryerson Woods Conservation Area's Education Center.

Those interested in participating in a workshop following the slide program should come prepared for a unique experience that is intended to lead participants to view the landscape in an entirely new way.

Lewenz's work has been exhibited widely across the country in major museums and galleries. An accomplished photographer, she received a 1984 National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship and her work has been published in numerous art and environmental journals.

The project, funded by the Illinois Arts Council, makes classes and workshops available to the public at no cost. The residency at Ryerson Woods is the first of its kind, bringing a natural interface of art and nature to a wide variety of programs. For registration and information, please call (312) 948-7750.

Letter To The Editor

To All Who Helped

Their is never any singular effort in any venture for community good. It has been publicized in the past week about the Senior League Girls Softball team going to Springfield, in reality it was Beardstown (45 miles west of Springfield).

This letter comes from the heart to thank all those who supported us financially and physically to get there and back.

Without the financial help from Antioch Family Sports

Store, Raymond Toft, West End Mini Mart, Antioch Clinic, A.J. Canfields Dist., R.J. Heilgeist Attorney, Paul and Delores Pavelski, State Bank of Antioch, and Johnson Jewelers, we would never have been able to make the trip.

Personal thanks of mental, physical, and emotional help go to Jim and Sue Glenn, Art, Elaine and Robin Wertz, and John, Marianne and Joe Rohde.

As for the team, Erynn Schaeffer, Debbie Henning, Cindy Lessard, Michelle Pavelski, Robin Rey, Tracy

Fahrner, Elizabeth Glenn, Kristen Kirkgaard, Ann Rohde, Mary Humphreys, Ali Rogola, Jenny Morris and Debbie Wertz.

These girls performed very well under unusual circumstances to say the least. Sleeping in crowded motel rooms, practice at strange hours and of course the games they played against Elgin and Sterling which they won and Beardstown twice. We had injuries and sick girls but they played and represented their town with honor. I thank them all.

Melody Fahrner

Lake Villa Man Caught After Chase To Hainesville

A Lake Villa man was apprehended by Antioch Police after a chase that began in Antioch ended in Hainesville.

Robert M. Nadson, 19, of Lake Villa was turned over to the Lake County Sheriff's Police on a warrant for a $10,000 burglary.

According to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, Madson was first pursued by an Antioch squad car after he crossed the center line several times travelling south on Rte. 83. He took off through Antioch when the police attempted to pull him over.

Madson led the police to Rollins Rd. and then into Hainesville and past Rte. 120. After crashing into a fence, he took off on foot.

Madson was charged with driving under intoxication and fleeing and eluding.

DUI Driver Draws Blank As Crash Kills Woman

Joy Thode, 26, Antioch, was killed in an accident at 12:15 p.m., on Wednesday, July 24, at the intersection of Grass Lake Rd. and Drexel Blvd., in Antioch Twp.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., the driver of the other car, charged with causing the accident, William Wrobel, 38, Ingelside, was also charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Thode was pronounced dead at the accident scene at 1:20 a.m. Wrobel, who had been visiting a friend in McHenry and was headed to his home in Ingelside, told sheriff's deputies that he did not remember anything except driving on Grass Lake Rd. He told sheriff's deputies that he didn't remember applying brakes or the collision itself.

He was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries by the Antioch Rescue Squad.

'85 Kenosha County Fair To Run From Aug. 7-11

The Kenosha County Fair will open on Wednesday, Aug. 7 and run through Sunday, Aug. 11, at the county fair grounds on Wilmet Rd., off of Hwy. C in Wilmet.

The judging of the thousands of entries will start on the first day, with the 4-H Cat and Dog shows on at 6 p.m. that evening.

The talent contest and crowning of 1985's Kenosha County Fair Queen will take place on the free acts stage, Thursday evening and one of the most popular events, the hot rod tractor pulling contest, will be the Thursday evening grandstand attraction.

Friday is children's day, starting with the children's parade in the morning. The midget races are that evening's grandstand attraction.

The 4-h Horse Show, the graden tractor pull and the 4-h Livestock Sale are the events that usually draw the biggest crowds on Saturday.

At noon, on Sunday, the Kenosha County Fair Parade will go through the streets of Wilmet and end up at the fair grandstand. The waterfights, featuring area fire departments, the country western show on the free acts stage, featuring Helen Cornelius, in the afternoon and evening, are the big events planned for the fair's last day that ends with a demolition derby at the Wilmet Speedway.

Power Engines In Action At Steam, Thresh Show

Tired of theme parks? Bored with Summerfest? Then try something different for a change. Plans are now completed for the 29th annual Steam Show and Threshing Bee to be held at the Taylor Marshall farm, Sycamore, Ill., Aug. 8-9-10 and 11.

For a small admission fee, only $2 for adults (children under 12 are free), the whole family can view actual working steam engines. A steam-powered saw mill operates daily cutting huge logs into lumber, a threshing machine separates oats and straw, and an antique mill cuts wood into thin shingles.

Other attractions include antique gas and kerosene tractors, craft demonstrations, a civil war unit, a charming barnyard zoo and a pedal pull for the youngsters.

There is a small scale steam train in operation, and a walk through the flea market for "bargains" and much more.

The beautiful hardwood grove on the Taylor Marshall Farm provides an ideal setting for the Steam Show and Threshing Bee, with plenty of free parking, lots of shade trees, and a natural amphitheatre which guarantees a fantastic view of the daily parade.

Lots of good food and cold drinks are available, so bring the whole family. Open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, it is sponsored by the Northern Illinois Steam Power Club, a not-for-profit organization.

Cable Blocks Navigation

His other boat, a powered cabin cruiser is still kept at the Golden Griffon, making it difficult for him to use both of the boats at the same time for family outings.

Paul Ashley of US Cable said that if his company looked into it last summer and decided that the cable was legal at its present height for the width of the waterway as Annis wrote, they would have done so according to the books.

Ashley said that the cable can be put up at a certain height in relation to the width of the waterway it goes over.

Right now the cable still exists, along with the problem.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) It's a good investment period for wise Arians who avoid being fleeced by checking for hidden facts before making major investments. Don't be sheepish in asking for good advice.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Stalled relationships need to get back on the track again. Be candid about the direction you want to go in. You may be surprised at the response you get to your open and honest approach.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Most career changes are still largely in the future. However, opportunities to prepare for these moves are coming through. Stay alert for such chances to show themselves soon.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) Lunar aspects could cause some confusion for Moon Children. Resist the temptation to back out of commitments. Instead, persist in following through on making decisions.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Tend to your dens, all you Leos and Leonas. Problems on the home front can be resolved if faced up to immediately. Pay more attention to the special needs of children.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your personal financial program may need to be reviewed before you put it into operation. Be sure to consult with mate regarding your planned major investment.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Aspects indicate you're entering a period of growth. Whatever you attempt to do in good faith proves successful. Educational endeavors are especially favored.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Business matters continue to occupy much of your time. An obstacle you can't jump over is scaled a step at a time. You soon get a whole new view from the top.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Signs indicate a tendency to overdo in physical activities. Moderation is the key to anything you attempt at this time. All extremes should be avoided.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Surprise. Just when you thought you were becoming immune to Cupid's cues, someone turns up to prove otherwise. Go ahead. Start building a relationship.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You can feel proud of the effect you're having on co-workers at this difficult time in their lives. They respond to the positive way you have of facing up to things.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) It's a good time to start on those self-improvement courses. Changes involving diet, exercise, etc. are favored. Kin encourages your efforts to succeed.

Moose Chapter Women To Meet On August 1

The college business meeting was called to order by Antioch Women of the Moose Senior Regent Dorothy Laursen with all officers present.

Jr. Grad. Regent Peggy Learmont and Jr. Regent Theresa Grefkowitz draped the Charter with sorrow, in memory of co-worker Lolly Maloney.

Guides Pat Sterling and Ruth Rynders proceeded with balloting on new candidates. The ballot was favorable.

Recorder Terry Smallwood read the minutes of the previous chapter meeting and the Board of Officers meeting. A motion to adopt the minutes was made by several co-workers, seconded by several and approved by the chapter.

The fourth quarterly audit was read by Chairman Jerri Polson. The chapter proceeded with the installation of new College Chairman Marge Hansen performed by Installing Regent Judy Page and Installing Guide Dorothy Tralewski.

The July birthday marcher was Peggy Learmont and the "Co-Worker of the Month" is Rose Marie Herkert.

She has been on the WOTM Board, has pro-temed at meeting, has helped in the kitchen and is a very good asset to our chapter.

We would like Chairman and co-workers to attend our ritual practices as the floor work is an essential part of our ritual and Ritual Director Mayis Dingsdale finds it easier if the floor is full. Chapter meetings are the first and third Thursdays of the month, with a couple of exceptions.

August is the Membership Committee's month to serve and Chairman Jeanne Flood will be there to help. The Board of Officers' meeting is Monday, August 5, the chapter meeting is Thursday, August 1.

The Time Machine

Ten Years Ago: July 23, 1975

An outdoor evening concert, "Music for a Summer Night," is planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 30, at the south end of Antioch Community High School. The band will be composed of senior high school students and local adults.

Waste Management Inc., operator of the landfill east of Antioch, will soon be constructing a new fencing arrangement. It was reported at Monday's village board meeting.

Following an executive session which reportedly involved land acquisition talks, the Lake Villa School Board conducted "routine business" at last week's meeting.

"Fiddler on the Roof," the colorful musical hit of both Broadway and Hollywood, will open Saturday at the PM&L Theatre.

Thirty Years Ago: July 28, 1955

More than $90,000 has already been subscribed to the St. Peter's School and Convent Fund Campaign. This announcement was made by Rev. A. J. Henderson, pastor of St. Peter's Church in Antioch.

A high of 99 degrees for this summer was recorded by Cooperative Observer Roy Kufalk Wednesday afternoon. This exceeded by two days the previous days high.

There is an old saying that "the worm will turn," and while far from classifying the Junior American Legion baseball team as worms, the ever-defeated Antioch nine turned and swatted the Mundelein team there last Thursday 16-0.

Fifty Years Ago: August 1, 1935

The famous Ford caravan—a mile of trucks and commercial cars from the Chicago plant of the Ford Motor Co. on a 2,000 mile tour by road, visiting 41 cities in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana—was due to arrive here today.

Another Mayor Backs McConnell For Clerk

A fifth Lake County mayor has endorsed Wauconda Village Clerk Venita McConnell in her bid for the Republican nomination for Lake County Clerk in the 1986 elections.

McConnell's latest convert is Lake Zurich Mayor Henry J. Paulus, who joins mayors Paul Neal of Libertyville, Colin McRae of Mundelein, Ken McGill of Wauconda and Charles R. Amrich of Island Lake in supporting her election.

Paulus has served as mayor of Lake Zurich for the past 16 years. Mayor Paulus informed Lakeland Newspapers that he was extending his support to McConnell's candidacy.

He states, "I have known Mrs. Venita McConnell for the past seven years. During that time she has served her community well. She has displayed exceptional business sense which makes her an outstanding administrator. I highly endorse her candidacy for Lake County Clerk in the upcoming primary election."

Mrs. McConnell is competing with County Board Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler of Ingleside for the Republican nomination for Lake County

Clerk. McConnell has picked up the endorsements of many prominent public officials and key Republican leaders for county clerk. The GOP nominee will run against Democratic incumbent Linda Hess in the Nov. 1986 elections. Apparently, Hess will seek reelection to a second 4-year term. She was elected to the office in 1982, succeeding three-term Democratic County Clerk Grace Mary Stern of Highland Park. The Democrats have occupied the county clerk's position for the past 15 years.

Committee Requests Study

Eleanor Rostron, Lake County Board member and chairperson of the Lake County Transportation Committee, has announced that the Lake County Transportation Committee has asked the Pace Suburban-Bus-Service to begin a countywide para-transit study for Lake County.

The request by the Lake County Transportation Committee was made at its regular meeting on July 11. The request for the countywide para-transit study is a direct outgrowth of the Lake County Transportation Plan which was completed in June of 1984.

The proposed countywide study would be the first study of its kind in the six-county area. The study would review such issues as how to make the existing para-transit services more effective, identify areas where new para-transit services could be started, investigate interconnecting existing township based para-transit service, review existing Pace funding guidelines for para-transit service and study the feasibility of countywide elderly and handicapped service.

Currently, eight para-transit services are

Forgive Rent Red Ink

An incredibly bungled mess. That's the only way to describe the predicament of the Central Lake Family YMCA, a good idea that has come a cropper because of money problems.

Near as anyone can tell—and that includes the auditing efforts of a nationally known accounting firm—Central Lake Y's debt is in excess of $300,000, with back rent on its headquarters building of $200,000 due Diamond Lake School Dist. 76.

The Y's financial nightmare came to light when school officials voted an Oct. 15 deadline for payment of rent or face eviction from the unused school building that Central Lake has been renting to serve an area including Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Libertyville, Grayslake and adjacent areas. The deadline was voted after more than a year went by without payment of rent.

How could the school let the YMCA slide for so long? Supt. Philip Simons described the rental delinquency as a "Catch 22" situation. He said school officials, in full support of the Y's community service purpose, assumed a sympathetic and understanding posture. Of late, though, board members decided "enough was enough." In view of the fact that their first responsibility was to the taxpayers of their district, they invoked the deadline.

Even as the bills piled up, Central Lake was conducting an exemplary program. Utilizing the rented school building, playgrounds throughout the community, the Mundelein Holiday Inn swimming pool, and other facilities, virtually a full service program was being offered. But not enough money was coming in to support all this activity. Professional staff and volunteer leadership, no matter how well intentioned, botched the job.

There is only one way out of this morass and that is for the school board to forgive the rent debt. We don't think this is unreasonable or irresponsible. With the rent delinquency off its back, hopefully the Central Lake board can regroup and continue serving the public. It's doubtful whether Diamond Lake School could have rented the vacant building to anyone else, so the school won't be out anything it never had in the first place. If the school doesn't take a "forgive and forget" attitude, it simply will be tacking more boards on windows that already were shuttered.

Navigation Headache

We can think of all sorts of legal entanglements growing out of the complaint of the skipper of a sailboat with a 26 foot mast who says he is being deprived of his right to a mooring space on a waterway between Bluff Lake and Petite Lake because a cable belonging to U.S. Cable Co. of Waukegan is dangling only 15 feet above the water to block his way.

Water rights violations, impeding navigation, freedom of the press, invasion of privacy, restraint of trade and civil rights quickly come to mind. With a bit of imagination, just about every kind of lawsuit with the possible exception of violation of church and state could be formulated. This is a litigious day and age.

John Annis, the aggrieved boater, has our sympathies. Out west where water rights are sacred besides being the law of the land, a put upon citizen would reach for his shotgun. We have watched too many draw bridges opened to accommodate the smallest dinghy with resulting highway traffic jams not to believe that Mr. Annis doesn't have a strong case.

U.S. Cable ought to restring its line under water so watercraft can have a right-of-way. It's their patriotic duty if nothing else.

Old Memo Told A Lot

The revelation in some of the Lakeland Newspapers two weeks ago of a confidential 1980 memo exchanged between two bank executives illustrates the crass and unprincipled approach developers can take in playing one municipality off another in the name of progress.

The five-year-old memo, exchanged between executives of First National Bank of Chicago, depicted a strategy of pitting Grayslake against Round Lake Park to achieve necessary zoning and annexation in the development of the controversial Heartland project. The thought was expressed that the developers would like to annex to Grayslake, but they would annex to Round Lake Park "if we expect to begin recognizing returns on the investment in the near future."

Heartland still is on the drawing boards and relations between Grayslake and Round Lake Park have been chilly ever since.

The memo now is but a footnote to local history, but it illustrates the need for village officials to be wary when the stakes are high. It also underscores the danger of officialdom acting brashly in the name of "progress."

Editor:

I watched and enjoyed a program on Channel 11, This Old House, which took us through a townhouse on 5th Avenue in New York City. At a price of $5 million this 57th floor apartment offered a living-dining room, two bedrooms, one bath, a functional kitchen and beautiful views from all windows. One could see at a distance the Hudson River, Central Park, and New York's famous skyline.

Afterward, I looked around at my home. It is a cottage with living-dining room, two bedrooms, a functional kitchen, one bath, and inviting views from all windows. We can see at a short distance Round Lake, nearby trees and flowers, neighbors' homes, and children playing.

To each his own. What price contentment?

Editor's Viewpoint

Porno Protestors Feel Progress Being Made

by BILL SCHROEDER

One hundred ten persons who manned picket lines at three Seven-Eleven stores for five hours Saturday add up to strong evidence of local concern regarding the flood of pornographic material that is spilling over society.

Coordinating their efforts through two national organizations, the protestors targeted their efforts against the national Seven-Eleven chain which they regard as the largest retail distributor of pornographic literature in the nation.

Pickets protested at Seven-Eleven stores in Mundelein, Libertyville and Vernon Hills. Similar protests were staged across the nation as part of a pattern for 1985 that has seen previous protests conducted in January and April with a fourth protest coming up in October.

The protestors are "going after" so-called adult magazines—Playboy, Playgirl, Penthouse and their trashy imitators—featuring explicit nudity and freewheeling articles on sex that are displayed prominently at newsstands and check-out counters in convenience stores.

Do these public protests have any impact?

Yes. There are indications that the avalanche of porn unleashed by U.S. Supreme Court decisions in recent years is having a backlash effect on citizens who object to explicit material being as easy to purchase as candy bars and bread and milk.

"We're making progress here and there," remarked William Slater of Mundelein, employed as a medical writer by Abbott Laboratories who is a pharmacist by profession. He mentioned how the City of Cincinnati has invoked controls against "adult" magazines and how several national supermarket companies have stopped dealing in pornographic literature.

Protestors in the locality are affiliated with two national organizations, according to Slater, Concerned Women of America (CWA) and National Federation for Decency. Protest efforts basically are church-oriented, Slater stressed. Alvina Golbert of Mundelein is the CWA state representative for Illinois.

Slater said he got involved in the movement to remove pornographic literature from public places when he didn't believe Mayor Colin McRae who said that the village was powerless to control pornography. "I discovered that the mayor was correct, so now we're working on seeing if that can be changed." Village Atty. Charles Marino is looking into Mundelein's existing obscenity ordinance and checking to determine whether or not zoning restrictions can be placed on prohibiting the sale of adult magazines to minors.

Slater said he didn't expect to get involved in protest marches and media contacts when he first looked into the problem of pornographic outlets in local stores. "But now that I have, I'm in it to stay," he asserted.

GETTING MARRIED—State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) will take as his bride, Sandra L. Bartlett, also of Lake Villa, at a family ceremony Monday, Aug. 5. They will receive guests and well wishers at a reception Saturday, Aug. 10. Sandy and Bob chose the Monday date because it fits into the hectic life of a public official and because it will give them an anniversary date of 8/5/85. Easy to remember! Our congratulations and best wishes to the prospective newlyweds.

MEDIA EVENT—Here's an event that probably should have been staged a long time ago. Give Condell Hospital credit (with public relations director Trudy Thies at the helm) for thinking it up. It's the first annual Media Challenge Run, a one mile race for teams from press, radio and television, to be run in conjunction with the 9th Annual Condell Distance Classic, a 10k race normally attracting more than 1,000 runners set for Sunday, Sept. 29.

So the guys and gals who normally show up only to report on the run now will have an opportunity to run themselves. Are overweight publishers eligible, Trudy?

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Always an earlybird, Karen hauled a trunk out of the attic the other day to begin packing for her trek later this month to begin her freshman year at the University of Illinois. Karen will be joining her sister, Jill, who is starting her senior year. The college count in our house will remain at two, though, because brother Bill has completed his studies and is working full-time in the newspaper business. Bob will be starting his sophomore year in high school and is getting ready for the bruising and battering of early football practice.

It Takes Residents To Enforce Leash Law

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

No matter what town or where I go, I have seen dogs running loose. There were even a few dead along the road.

In May, I saw a beautiful Dalmation in the shopping center. She really wasn't hurting anyone but I did fear that she would for sure get hit in the parking lot. A lady walking by got frightened of the dog and ran into a store.

A week later, my son was attacked by a dog but as big as the boy is, he managed to hold his own. A few days later, a white dog, fairly large, was barking and chasing all the school kids trying to get to school. I distracted him with food until the kids got down the street.

In Wauconda, from April 15 to May 15, there were 17 strays picked up and two bites. I didn't need to check with any other towns to find out just how bad the problem is.

The Lake County Animal Shelter had 159 dogs in April. There were 71 disposed of and animal warden in your town so that they can be there to solve the problem. This is the only way that they can know about it. You don't need to leave your name if you don't want to. They will leave it out if you ask.

If the animal is friendly and can be tied or held until the police arrive, then go ahead. However, if the animal is not friendly, don't try it and take a chance of getting bit.

As for the owners who insist on letting your dogs run loose, think twice and if nothing else, believe that it is kinder for your pet if you keep him home and out of danger.

The animal warden, Len Hackl, says, "Sooner or later, you'll have contact with us. Your fee could be double or more. You don't know what your dog is doing. If he isn't tagged and ends up biting someone, you will pay for the shots and fee of boarding, along with other dues. You may even find yourself in court." All this could cost more than $85.

When I talked to Officer Price at the police station, he told me that when they do get a call on a dog, they will hold it about one day before taking it to the shelter. If they can find the owner, they will give it back. The owner will be given a warning the first time. After that they will get a ticket of $5 and it could be down hill from there.

Officer Price says that if you have a dog problem not to be afraid to go into court and push the issue. It might take some time but sooner or later, it should work out. You have rights too.

If your dog gets loose by accident, do look for him. Should the police or animal warden find him and the dog has a collar or name tag with name and phone number on it, they can get him back to you. A rabie tag is also used to help find the owner.

Should you get bitten by a dog, be sure and clean it right away with soap and water and be sure that you find out where the dog lives and report it right away. Talk to anyone who might have seen the dog and get their name and number in case it must go into court.

Dogs that run loose can be a real problem especially when they go after kids and people, as well as forming packs. Even the nicest dog will join a pack. No one likes to have their garden torn up, messes in their yard or be in the middle of a dog fight if they are walking their dog on a leash. Dogs are great ones for tearing up garbage sacks and leaving a real mess but the dog could also find bad meat and get ill.

Everyone including the dogs would be happier and far better off if the leash law was followed. Your pet is happy to be home with you.

Pet-Wise

23 biters. It all totaled to 253 dogs in April. Summer months it is a lot higher. One summer month it totaled 400 dogs.

The police in each town and the Animal Shelter Warden cannot be everywhere, so I say to readers, give them a hand. We need to stop these owners who allow their dogs to run loose and get killed, or run and chase our kids. You must be the one to call the police or

Round Lake Officials Show Appreciation

Round Lake area officials held a luncheon on July 24 honoring all of the area State Reps and legislators who helped get the Round Lake area included in Governor James Thompson's Build Illinois program.

Attending the meeting were dignitaries such as Adeline Geo-Karis, Bill Peterson, David Barkhausen, Virginia Frederick, Bob Churchill, a representative from Jack Schaffer's office, the four Round Lake area mayors (Claire Petrick, Carl Schrimpf, George Scherer and Rudy Magna), three county board members from Dist. 4 (Norm Geary, Donna Mae Litweiler and Fred Popp), Fox Lake Mayor William Dam, Round Lake Area Chamber of Commerce/Industry President Joan Seminary and many others.

Overall, the Round Lake area was allocated $1 million through the program and everyone at the luncheon agreed that the person most responsible for this was the governor himself.

"This is the governor's program. That $1 million wouldn't be possible if it wasn't for him," Don Weiler, promotional director for the Round Lake Regional Economic Development Corporation said.

Senator Geo-Karis, 31st Dist., said it was a great cooperative effort between all of the area legislators and Round Lake area officials.

"The amount of work that we can accomplish by working together is tremendous. A lot of credit should go to the people who started the whole thing: Don Weiler, Sue Nikulin (former Round Lake Beach Village Clerk), Don Bianchi, Bill Cody (former Round Lake Heights Mayor), Fred Kutschke and Bob Neal (Lake County Republican Chairman). They got it off the ground and we just carried it out down in Springfield," she said.

"This is only a start. The

Great America Rides With Job Opportunities

by DEBBIE HORVE

For many Lake County college students, working during the summer at Six Flags Great America Theme Park in Gurnee is worthwhile and fun, as they gain experience and meet new people.

The park hires between 4,000 to 5,000 summer employees each year for a variety of different jobs, ranging from food service to entertainment.

These employees typically are college students who are working through the summer to help pay college expenses as well as gaining valuable experience.

Walking into the park, guests may be approached by the first of these eager employees — the marketing surveyors, who will ask for a zip code of about every 10 guests who walk through the gates.

Two such summer marketing employees include Pat Kuzma, of Grayslake and Shelton Mallow, of Vernon Hills. "This is how we do our demographic survey for targeting of advertising," Kuzma said.

A student at Northern Illinois University, Kuzma plans to graduate in December with a degree in public relations.

Kuzma has been working summers at Great America since 1978. She began working in the music hall and moved into marketing research in 1980.

Kuzma commented that the exposure she receives in this field will really help her gain knowledge in her major and is the main reason she returns to Great America each summer.

"This is really good experience for me. Not only do I work with people but I am beginning to get some office exposure and I am able to see how everyone puts together press releases," Kuzma said.

"I plan on sending resumes out soon and will send one to Great America, I'd like to continue working for them," Kuzma added.

This is Shelton Mallow's first summer at the park. He is a recent graduate from Southern Illinois University and is working on a master's degree in journalism.

"I'm hoping to work in public relations or marketing eventually," Mallow said, adding, "I get to meet a lot of people and talk to everyone."

Mallow states that on an average day, he surveys about 80 people, and on a very busy day, can survey as many as 120 people.

The next stop for guests may be the Guest Relations Building, located next to the gate entrance. There, one may find Terry Parker, of Lindenhurst.

Parker has been handling questions, problems, complaints and suggestions at Guest Relations for three summers but had two prior years experience at the park. "We get a lot of weird questions. Someone once wanted to know if we had a helicopter service," she said.

Being a Guest Relations "lead," Parker is the one in charge of her shift. She usually works about 39 hours a week and says she loves every minute of it.

"I enjoy working with the customers as well as the people I work with," Parker said, adding, "I'm interested in public relations work and the experience is great."

After getting all the information needed, most guests will go on to the rides! Taking a ride on Skytrack Tower will give a guest an aerial view of the whole park.

Skytrack Tower is 330 feet from the base to the flagpole and Brenda Dersam, Waukegan, is one of the summer employees who will take guests up 285 feet and give them interesting facts about the park.

Dersam began working mid-season last summer as a lead for Skytrack Tower and Columbia Carousel. Dersam is a student at Northern Illinois University, majoring in mathematics.

Being a lead, Dersam has to manage people and deal with guests and problems. "It's very interesting but at times it can get monotonous. I do the same thing over and over again," she commented.

When it's time for a treat, guests will stop at one of the many vendors in the streets for ice cream, pretzels and cotton candy. At one of the stands, guests may find Rob Cote, of Antioch. Cote is a senior at Antioch High School, and is working his first job.

Cote works 30 to 40 hours a week and usually sells about $600 in goodies each day he works. "I have a lot of fun and get to meet a lot of people. Once, I served someone who was visiting from Israel. It was interesting," Cote said.

With the happy atmosphere of the park, it's easy to meet new people. "I meet a lot of new people who live in my area. I like meeting people," he added.

Great America also hires students to perform in the many musical shows. This year Great America presents "America," a revue featuring many of this country's most loved tunes.

Another Great America stage show this year is "RabbitCadabra." This show features Bugs Bunny, who will mystify his audiences with feats of magic.

Great America also has an exciting Wilderness Theatre which features the dolphin duo, Nemo and Neptune, as well as Fernando, the sea lion.

These are just three of the many shows at Great America. To be able to work in one, auditions are held in the spring to find the most qualified individuals for each show.

To work at Great America, one must be 16 years old, although some people are hired part-time at 15, to do some sweeping. In order to operate a ride, an employee must be at least 17.

Each year, summer employees are put through a training session. "The training is very thorough for each department. No one starts working until they know exactly what they are doing. Even if you worked at the park before you go through training as a refresher course," Parker commented.

For the first time ever, Great America will be open after Thanksgiving for "WinterFaire." WinterFaire will feature holiday foods, merchandise, music and entertainment.

Right now, Great America officials are not sure what the hiring needs will be for the event. "We do believe we will need people," said Marion Riedel, public relations.

EYEWEAR, NO LONGER A NECESSITY?

EYE SURGERY WHICH TAKES PLACE WHILE THE PATIENT SNOOZES IN AN OUTPATIENT CENTER NOW OFFERS THE REALISTIC HOPE OF REMOVING EYEGlass DEPENDENCY FOR MANY WHO ARE UNCOMFORTABLE WITH CONTACT LENSES OR WHO SEEK FREEDOM FROM EYEWEAR FOR PERSONAL OR PROFESSIONAL REASONS.

THESE SURGICAL TECHNIQUES, FIRST USED IN THE U.S.S.R. AND IN COLUMBIA, CAUSE BETTER FOCUSING OF LIGHT WITHIN THE EYE BY RESHAPING THE CORNEAL WINDOW.

IN THE SOVIET TECHNIQUE (FYODOROV), CALLED RADIAL KERATOTOMY, HALF MILLIMETER-DEEP RADIAL CUTS GOING FROM THE PUPIL'S EDGE TOWARD THE WHITE PORTION ALLOW A NATURAL FLATTENING EFFECT ON THE CENTRAL CORNEA TO OCCUR.

REFINED IN THE U.S.S.R. SINCE 1973 AND IN THE UNITED STATES SINCE 1978, MORE THAN 100,000 KERATOTOMIES HAVE BEEN PERFORMED WORLD-WIDE.

SEVERAL U.S. STUDIES HAVE RECONFIRMED ITS SAFETY AND HIGH EFFECTIVENESS, THOUGH SOME RARE, SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS HAVE OCCURRED.

KERATOTOMY CORRECTS NEARSIGHTEDNESS AND ASTIGMATISM.

IN THE COLUMBIAN TECHNIQUE (BARRAQUER), THE SURGEON USES HIGH-TECH EQUIPMENT TO REMOVE A QUARTER-MILLIMETER THICK CONTACT LENS-SHAPED WAFER FROM THE FRONT EYE WALL.

THIS PROCEDURE, WHICH HAS A 25 YEAR TRACT RECORD, CORRECTS FARSIGHTEDNESS AS WELL AS NEARSIGHTEDNESS BEYOND THE RANGE OF KERATOTOMY.

Handicap game. However, recently there was a qualifying session for the Grand National Pairs. Winners were Mary Jacques, of Kenosha and Craig Gardner, of Chicago; second place winners were Judi and Hank Meurer, of Libertyville and third, were Leda and John Fields, of Kenosha.

Coming in fourth, were Andy Harvey, of Libertyville and Eddie Seto, of Lindenhurst, with Anne Fisher, of Park City and Mimi Sachen, of Waukegan, fifth.

Today's hand was played in that game. It can make 6S, although only two of the pairs got to the slam and two of the pairs who stopped at game made only 11 tricks.

There are a number of ways to bid the hand. A 1S opening by South and a 2D response by North are fairly routine. This shows 3-card spade support and he has already shown 10 or more high card points with his 2D response. South is now interested in slam.

H-K82	H-A10	H-972

However, if he bids 4N, Blackwood, and his partner, shows only one Ace, he won't know whether there are two heart losers. Therefore, it is better to cuebid. South cuebids 3C, showing the Ace of clubs and North, in turn, cuebids 3D, showing the Ace of diamonds. South now makes a waiting bid of 3S. Once partner has given a two over one response and then shows support for opener's suit, the partnership is committed to game. Over 3S, North cuebids the Ace of hearts. South now bids 6S.

Against 6S, West should make the aggressive lead of three of clubs, fourth best in the unbid suit. Declarer wins East's King with the Ace of clubs. He must now establish the hearts before drawing trump. He finesesses the 10 of hearts and cashes the Ace of hearts. He then returns to his hand with the six of spades and trumps another heart. Noting the opponents' hearts are gone, South cashes the J of S, cashes the Ace of diamonds and ruffs a diamond to get back to his hand to draw the rest of the trump and run the good hearts. He loses one club at the end, making 6H.

Actually, South can take all 13 tricks by finessing the A of D for a club discard. However, this is too dangerous after a club opening lead. Without the club opening lead, South could take a "free" finesse in diamonds and throw a losing club on the Ace of diamonds even if the finesse loses.

How can any financial institution offer you high interest rates for a long term in today's economy. The most respected economists, both government and private, cannot tell you what the interest rates are going to be three months from now. In fact, a few economists believe government rates are going to be lower in the last quarter of this year. Do these so-called pseudo intellectual officers in these financial institutions know more than the best brains in the country? You be the judge as to who is right.

White House Occupant Faces Shorter Life

by JOHN STEINKE

Ronald Reagan is the oldest person ever to serve as President of the United States. Mr. Reagan was 17 days shy of his 70th birthday when he was first inaugurated Chief Executive on January 20, 1981. Despite his recent surgery for a malignancy, President Reagan does not look his years. His physicians remain optimistic that the cancerous growth has been contained. In addition, he is the only Chief Executive to survive an assassin's bullet in U.S. history.

But the fact remains that the presidency is a man-killing job. Ever since George Washington's administration, the stresses have taken their tolls on Chief Executives. The President holds the most demanding job on this planet. He must conduct foreign policy, recommend measures to Congress for solving domestic problems and lead his political party. He also suffers intense emotional pressure. Often he and he alone must make these tough decisions that can mean war or peace in the nuclear age. In his hands rests the fate of the world.

The U.S. presidency, with its awesome responsibilities and tremendous stresses, tends to shorten the lives of those who hold the office. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. has conducted an exhaustive study of the longevity of our Presidents. Their conclusion was: "Presidents do not live as long as their assumed office, while 22 fell short of the criteria.

The longest-living former Presidents were John Adams (1797-1801) and Herbert Hoover (1929-1933). Each lived to be 90. Four others lived substantially longer than their normal life expectancy. They were: Thomas Jefferson (1801-1809), who died at 83, James Madison (1809-1817), who died at 85, John Quincy Adams (1825-1829), who died at 80 and Harry S. Truman (1945-1953), who lived to the age of 88.

The shortest-lived Presidents were James A. Garfield (1881) and John F. Kennedy (1961-1963), both victims of assassins. Garfield died 21 years short of his life expectancy, and Kennedy died 26 years before his expected time. Charles J. Guiteau fired two shots into President Garfield's arm and spinal column. Garfield survived for 79 days before he died from his wounds on September 19, 1881. Lee Harvey Oswald (or somebody) murdered President John F. Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963.

Here is the Metropolitan Insurance Co. table of presidential life expectancies through the first inauguration of President Ronald Reagan (1981).

Steinke On Politics

contemporaries in the general population, nor even as long as Vice Presidents and unsuccessful candidates for the presidency."

From 1789 to 1985, the life expectancy among Presidents has been considerably lower than that of the general population. Of the 35 deceased Presidents, 13 lived longer than their life expectancy at the time they

Both Good, Bad Sides To Exercise Question

Can regular exercise be more dangerous than beneficial? The type of exercise, its consistency and intensity are all vital factors in determining the answer.

Exercise intensity needs to be increased gradually in order to give the body true fitness benefits. Some problems can occur with certain kinds of exercise.

Vigorous jogging on concrete or blacktop streets, for example, can be more harmful than beneficial for some people. Whenever possible, jogging should be done on grass or dirt surfaces. Young girls at the age of puberty and young women, ages twenty to thirty-five (childbearing ages), are at a somewhat higher risk for female organ damage resulting from intense, improper jogging.

Research has shown that some women who exercise strenuously may stop menstruating and may be losing calcium in their bones. These women are at a higher risk for periodontal disease and osteoporosis as the aging process continues.

Moderate daily exercise with increased dietary calcium will enhance the benefits of exercise. Regulation of running times is most important when trying to improve speed and actually develop a training schedule.

Research shows that an exercised/stressed muscle takes forty-eight hours to repair microscopic damaged muscle membrane.

Therefore, one should train for two easy days after every hard day. These easy days will vary according to fitness levels. The key is to finish an easy day feeling invigorated, but not tired. The weekly schedules need to be structured on a hard/easy basis, since it takes muscles twenty-one days to adapt to a new training program.

There should be at least one week each month in which neither speed nor mileage requirements are increased. Any exercise program should be varied as to the level of muscular stress or the muscles will not grow stronger.

A good way to gauge whether or not you are overtraining is to take your pulse daily as you waken to determine your normal resting heart rate. These exercise rules also apply to regular strenuous aerobic dancing and exercise programs, as well as to jogging programs.

Doing strenuous exercise on a daily basis without providing appropriate nutritional intake, balanced with protein and carbohydrate, can be more destructive than beneficial.

Protein is necessary for muscle, tissue and cell rebuilding. Regular strenuous exercise without adequate protein intake may lead to muscle destruction rather than muscle building.

Pat D's Nutrition Today

Pat DeAngelis is a nutrition therapist at American International Hospital, Zion. Readers with questions about the food and liquid they consume are invited to address questions to Pat D's Nutrition Today, Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, Ill. 60030.

A small portion of protein balanced with complex carbohydrates (vegetables, fruit, whole grains) one hour before strenuous activity will provide adequate nutrition for beneficial exercise results.

When exercise is being performed regularly for weight control as a major goal, nonstrenuous exercise within one hour after eating meals has been found to be more beneficial than exercising before meals.

It has been found that ingesting carbohydrate (sucrose sugar) an hour before exercise can cause a hypoglycemic response that will eventually bring greater fatigue than if no food had been ingested at all. Sugar can also draw fluids into the digestive tract and cause cramps and bloating, especially with moderate to increased strenuous activity.

If the balanced protein, complex carbohydrate intake is not possible before regular exercise, then it can be taken approximately an hour after the exercise.

Watch for the signs of overdoing exercise, such as increased fatigue, increased muscular aches and pains (especially muscle cramping), nausea and loss of appetite. These signs all represent risk factors and indicate that your exercise program needs to be reevaluated.

Since I eat about 75 percent of my meals in restaurants, how do I know if I am getting adequate nutrition?

Remember that restaurants are businesses, interested in both producing good tasting food and making a profit. The menu is geared toward the restaurant's clientele and may not be as complete as you want it to be.

A restaurant with too long a menu may be overextending itself. No restaurant can prepare dozens of different foods or many complicated dishes on a daily basis without implementing some serious shortcuts.

The best rule to follow is to ask questions for more specific information about the food on the menu. Be careful of the term "fresh" and its interpretations.

Restaurants actually doing their own baking would use fewer sweeteners and preservatives than those buying their items from commercial bakers. You need always to specify the type of bread that you want for your toast or sandwich and usually you will be served a higher quality of bread when choosing rye over wheat in a restaurant.

You can usually avoid entrees that have been frozen and microwave cooked or precooked if you concentrate on items that are generally made to order such as sauteed, grilled, or poached dishes, rather than baked or stewed ahead of time.

Choose restaurants that give you a choice of broiled foods rather than fried foods. Remember that oil is heated to at least 400 degrees to fry items like fish, potatoes and some breaded vegetables. Many times these foods are kept for several days.

Fatty acids break down every time the oil is heated. This actually causes carcinogenic compounds to be present. Fried foods just aren't worth the health risk, except for stir-fried which uses relatively small amounts of oil found in Japanese and Chinese foods.

In order to obtain fresher and more nutritious food, order simple vegetable dishes and meats without additional sauces and gravies. Be cautious of salad bars that are set up for all day rather than for only a few hours at a time.

When a salad bar is set up for a long period of time, preservatives that may contain sulfites are needed to keep the food looking appetizing and to prevent it from wilting and actually spoiling. Most salad bars purchase commercially made salads that have a shelf life of about twenty days. Ask whether the mayonnaise and salad dressings are made in house or are commercial products that may have large amounts of preservatives.

Whenever eating in restaurants, especially on a continual basis, remember to increase your water intake in order to wash out increased salt. Water is best taken just before a meal and may be cold but would be best without ice cubes.

Remember, when you dine out you are paying for the right to eat what you want. Be polite but specific as to your needs and desires. This way, you will be able to eat better and more nutritiously than those who just wait to be fed.

Try Simple Salmon Patties Recipe

I've had mixed reviews for my salmon dishes. I'll never forget the smoked salmon-tomato quiche that I had high hopes for one evening. But the lox were too salty even for my wife. My stepson was gracious—he said he wasn't very hungry.

I had better luck with broiled salmon steaks. I even received praise for the canned salmon when I mixed with cream cheese, finely chopped celery, green onion and green pepper, mayonnaise and lemon juice. I refrigerated the mixture several hours, then shaped the salmon into a fish, sprinkled on some chopped walnuts and parsley, and used two black olives for eyes.

I guess I've had the greatest success with simple salmon patties. My mother made them when I was a kid and frowned on most fish. Not salmon patties. At least I could skip cod liver oil for one day.

On some occasions, I dip the patties in beaten egg and dredge them in bread crumbs. Sometimes, I mix in the egg and forget the crumbs.

I also prepare a simple lemon sauce, with parsley or chives, when I'm in the mood. When I keep salmon simple, I get the best results.

Salmon Patties

- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup crushed saltine crackers
- 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 heaping tablespoon minced onion
- 1 can (15½ oz.) salmon, drained and flaked
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 cup cooking oil

In mixing bowl, beat egg slightly, beat in milk, add rest of ingredients except oil, mix well, shape into 6 patties, place on plate and refrigerate 1 hour. In large skillet, heat oil and fry patties until desired doneness. Serves three

Lemon-Chive Sauce

- 5 Table spoons butter
  - 2 tablespoons finely chopped chives
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
  - ½ teaspoon salt
  - pinch of black pepper
- Melt in small saucepan on low heat, add remaining ingredients, beat thoroughly with salad fork and serve hot over salmon patties.

Meatless Lasagna Enhances Italian Dinner

I'll never decree spaghetti the side dish to other Italian favorites, such as lasagna, the way restaurants do. I just can't. Blame my childhood.

Spaghetti was always No. 1 when I was growing up. Before I reached my teens, I could put away three or four bowls at a sitting. Pizza couldn't dislodge the champ. Neither could hot dogs or hamburgers -- except at the ball park.

Today, I'm still a kid at heart, but don't devour pasta like I did at 10. But when I make spaghetti, I still call it spaghetti, even though I most often use linguine -- lasagna has to settle for second banana.

When lasagna is the side dish, it changes color at our house. That's because the typical version clashes with the tomato sauce, meatballs and Italian sausage that star in our spaghetti dinner. Meatless, tomatoless, lasagna doesn't.

Lasagna made with green noodles, a spinach-cheese filling and a light white sauce compliments the main course artistically as well as palatewise.

If you're making homemade garlic bread, the lasagna can go in the oven first. Then, when you're checking on the lasagna mid-way through the baking, the bread can follow.

Now about the salad -- better forget it

Spinach Lasagna

- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, drained
- 4 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 pound ricotta cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon black pepper
- 5 tablespoons margarine
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 garlic clove, chopped
- 9 lasagna noodles, boiled in salted water and drained
- 2 packages (8 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese

1/4 cups all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

In bowl, combine spinach, eggs, ricotta, salt, pepper. Melt 1 tablespoon margarine in skillet, saute onion and garlic until golden, stir into spinach mixture. Arrange 3 noodles in greased 13-inch-by-9-inch-by-2-inch pan, cover with half of spinach mixture, top with half of Mozzarella; repeat layering and cover with last 3 noodles. In saucepan, blend rest of margarine with flour on low heat, gradually stir in milk, add 1/2 cup Parmesan; raise heat, stir until thickened. Pour sauce over lasagna, sprinkle on remaining Parmesan, bake in 350-degree oven 35 minutes and serve immediately. Serves 9.

New Coach Must Deal With Positive Problem

With a new head coach and a number of potential starters in the offensive backfield, the Johnsbury Skyhawks are looking toward a productive year.

Head Coach Mike Roberts, who will replace Randy Obermet, the coach for the last three years, Roberts has been with the program for five years, three as a varsity assistant.

He talked confidently about his team for the 1985 season, but mentioned that there were some key areas that could make or break the season.

"The number one question is our ability to throw the ball," he said. "If our passing game is simply adequate we will do well."

Besides having five or six legitimate starters in the backfield, Roberts said that he has an above average offensive line.

Three starters are returning to that line, bolstered by two-year letterman Bob Bentz, a 235-pound left tackle.

The defense is lead by a strong linebacking core. On the defensive line, Bentz may move from the line to a linebacker position. Some of the top running backs may also see some time at linebacker. While Roberts likes the flexibility that kind of situation gives him, he doesn't want to wear anybody out.

"We're going to do our best to platoon, but we've got to have our best kids on the field," he said.

The depth will be the strength of the team, and will give Johnsbury an extra dimension that the coaching staff is not used to.

"We've never really been faced with this before," Roberts said about the depth. "We've got people who are pushing each other."

Prairie State

Brian Becker (left), of Antioch, competes in the open men's 400 meter event at the Prairie State Games. Nearly 3,000 Illinois residents participated in the Prairie State Games finals in Champaign, July 18-21.

Ex-Coach Lives And Breathes The Sport

by DANG O'SHEA

Bob Bohl, of Mundelein, lives and breathes gymnastics and he'd like to infect everyone else.

"The heyday of gymnastics is over, but I really hope the pendulum swings back," commented Bohl. According to the former high school gymnastics coach, much has been happening in the sport since the height of its American popularity in the sixties and seventies.

There haven't been enough coaches and not enough money to pay the coaches. Another problem—in Illinois at least—has been the changing of the gymnastics season from winter to spring.

Bohl attended the University of Illinois, where he competed in gymnastics and began his 25-year involvement in the sport. Since then he has coached gymnastics at several different Chicago area high schools, including Rich East.

Waukegan, Evanston and Mundelein, where he also served as athletic director. Bohl has since resigned from his job as athletic director, but still helps out with the gymnastics program.

Bohl also runs a gymnastics club called the Flyers. He described it as a development program with five different age groups. The club meets every two weeks—from November to May. They also practice two nights a week at Mundelein High School.

Sequoit Offense A Question Mark

The offense may be a question mark for the Antioch Sequoits as they begin planning for their 1985 football season.

Head Coach Steve Wapon said that much more will be known about the team's potential after the players start to come in. Monday, August 12 will be the first day of team meetings and practice for the players as well as coaching staff.

"Once the door is open and we see people start to come in, we'll know a lot more when things get going," Wapon said.

The offense will be a question mark, Wapon said, especially at the offensive line. "We're going to be pretty green in portions of the offensive line," he said.

The defense should be a little bit stronger, Wapon predicted, with the main strength being the linebackers. "Our major area of concern is the defense."

sive line."

The August 12 team meetings will be followed by a practice without pads. The varsity and sophomore players are to report from 8 to 11 a.m. The freshmen will report from 9 a.m. until noon.

The Antioch High School Football Mother's Camp will run for eight days beginning on Tuesday, August 13.

Accepting League Teams

The Waukegan Park Dist. will begin accepting teams for the fall non-classic football leagues at the Belvidere Recreation Center on Saturday, Aug. 17, for in-district teams and on Monday, Aug. 19 for out-of-district teams.

Registration will be on a first come-first serve basis. Nine teams will be accepted.

Park's Carr Ready

Looking forward to his junior year of football at North Park College in Chicago is linebacker Ron Carr, a graduate of Warren High School, who lives in Gurnee.

North Park College opens its 1985 football season on Saturday, Sept. 14, hosting Augustana College, two-time NCAA Division III National Champion, and winner of its last 24 games in a row. Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m. at the North Park Athletic Field, Foster and Albany Aves. on Chicago's northwest side.

North Park College was founded in 1891 by the Evangelical Covenant Church and has been located on Chicago's northwest side since 1894.

County Marathon Adds Run

The Lake County Marathon will add a new feature to its 1986 event, a 10 Kilometer (6.2 mile) race, which will take place on Sunday, April 27, 1986. Sponsored by the Bank of Waukegan, the 10K race is expected to start at Edina Park in Zion, along with the Marathon and Half-Marathon events. It will run south on Sheridan Rd. and end in Waukegan.

"In keeping with past tradition," noted Dr. Barry Seiller, the race chairman, "we are pleased to add a new feature to the Lake County Marathon. We are gratified by the support of the Bank of Waukegan, and expect many new runners to compete in the Lake County Marathon as a result of the 10K race."

Many of the 10K runners will be stimulated to run in either of the longer Marathon events in the future. The 10K runners will be able to get to the start and return to the finish by use of the Chicago-Northwestern Marathon train, which is provided free of charge to the runners.

While the Lake County Marathon originally started solely as a full 26.2 mile run, new events have been added over the years. A Corporate Team event was added in 1982 and in 1984, a Half-Marathon (13.1 miles) was added.

Total participation in the overall Lake County Marathon has grown to 2700 runners, and the race's prestige has grown along with the number of entrants. "We are particularly pleased to run the 10K event within the Zion-Waukegan areas," stated Dr. Seiller, "as these communities have been particularly supportive of the Lake County Marathon in its initial years."

Road race sponsorship is certainly nothing new to the Bank of Waukegan, as it has sponsored the 10K "Reveille Run," held in conjunction with the City of Waukegan Lakefront Festival, over the past four years.

In redirecting its sponsorship efforts toward the Lake County Marathon 10K race, the Bank of Waukegan believes it can build on the successes of the past years' races. "We look forward to approximately 1,000 runners entering the 10K race in 1986," stated Bill Devore, vice president of the Bank of Waukegan, "and this will not only provide an opportunity for shorter distance runners to compete in this great event, but will also increase the amount of race proceeds which will go to the Illinois Special Olympics. The bank will not only lend its financial support, but also a large number of volunteers will be used at the finish area for support."

The 1985 race raised a total of $25,000 for the Special Olympics, a portion of which is being used to help build a Special Olympics Training Center in Deerfield.

Further details on the "First Annual" 10K race are to be made available shortly.

Warren Sets Sports Physicals

The 1985-86 Warren Twp. High school athletic season will soon begin. Despite the schools' many fire related problems school officials are working to carry on the sport programs with as little conflict as possible.

The format for physicals has been changed somewhat for this year. Sophomore and varsity football players should report to the boy's locker room at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, August 12.

Students who will be participating in all other boy's sports including winter and spring athletes who will not be going out for a fall sport should report at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, August 19 in the boy's locker room. This includes boy's cross country, golf and soccer.

All girl athletes including fall, winter and spring should report to the girl's locker room at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 20.

The medical exams which will be given are adequate for participation in interscholastic athletics and fulfill Illinois High School Assn. requirements.

However, any parent who wishes a more complete medical examination for a family doctor may do so. A copy of that medical exam must be on file with the school nurse.

Student athletes who wear glasses should bring them to the physical examinations. Students who wear braces and plan on participating in contact sports should bring an authorization from their dentist or orthodontist.

The medical exam which is required for all for all freshman entering high school this fall fulfills the need for a medical exam for participation in athletics and consequently freshman boys and girls are excluded from the sports exams.

Parents and athletes should also be aware of Warren's procedure regarding insurance for participation in athletics.

All student-athletes have the option of purchasing the school sponsored accident insurance program or to use the coverage provided by parent or guardian accident insurance. The plan must provide protection for accidental injury and/or accidental death incurred through participation in interscholastic athletics.

Football insurance coverage is $35 and covers practice, games as well as travel to and from. Twenty-four hour coverage is total 24-hour coverage including vacations from the time of purchase until the beginning of the next school year. This type of coverage is necessary for Ski Club if family insurance does not cover, cost is $30.

School Time Coverage covers accidental injuries in school, travel to and from school sponsored activities if riding in a vehicle furnished by the school, physical examination and all other sports excluding football, the cost is $10.

Since the fall sports program will be underway soon dates have been arranged for equipment pickup. All freshman, sophomore and varsity candidates for football are to report on Monday, August 12 in the field house as follows: varsity at 8 a.m., sophomore at 9 a.m. and freshman at 10:30 a.m.

Practice will begin that afternoon for sophomore and varsity players and on Wednesday, August 14 for freshman.

All boys who are planning on participating in cross country, golf and soccer are to report to Coach Ariola for cross country, Kattner for golf and Wendorf for soccer at 8 a.m. on Monday, August 19 in the boys locker room for organizational meetings. Practice will also begin on that date.

The girls fall sport athletic teams will begin on Monday August 19 for cross country, tennis and volleyball.

G.L. Football To Start Aug. 12

The Grayslake Community High School has scheduled its first football practice for August 12.

Senior football lettermen should report at the boys locker room at 7:30 a.m. for equipment issue. Seniors should report at 8 a.m., juniors at 8:45 a.m., sophomores at 9:30 a.m. and freshman at 10:30 a.m.

Fitness testing is required of all players. A physical exam form must be completely filled out by a physician on or before the first practice. Forms are available in the Athletic Director's office or the main office.

Attention ladies and gentlemen, in this corner, we have Brian Bettis, who is the first professional boxer to come to the Northwest Suburbs for a main event fight on Aug. 10.

Bettis, 25, a native of Wauconda, is returning to his hometown to bring professional prizefighting to the citizens, rather than having them go to the city.

As his professional career is just beginning to blossom, Bettis already holds an undefeated record of 7-0, with five knockouts. As an amateur, he has one loss and 69 wins.

He began boxing when he was 15 years old, but was influenced, at the age of three by his father, Mick Bettis, a Chicago Golden Glove Champion. He also had the early influence of one of his uncles, Tom Bettis, who was a boxer and is now a defensive coach for St. Louis Cardinals.

Bettis, a light heavy-weight standing at 5'10, 180 pounds, will face a black Chicago fighter in the ring for an eight-round fight on at 2 p.m. on Aug. 10.

Included among his previous wins, Bettis holds awards for 1979 Golden Gloves Championship, Chicago 1979 Chicago Park District Champion, and 1980 Golden Gloves Championship, Tampa, Fla.

In a black vinyl-covered scrapbook, Bettis has newspaper clippings of his fights from Chicago, Tampa and Charleston, S.C. Included among his clippings is a victory over Greg Payne in Miami in 1983, Bettis' first professional fight. "I was supposed to be an easy win," Bettis said.

He has boxed in popular halls including the Chicago International Amphitheatre, DePaul University, Aragon Ballroom, the Sheraton at Charleston, S.C. and the Miami Convention Center.

How does this boxer prepare for a fight? Well, Bettis has been training with top 10 boxers for the last six to seven years. Everyday, he works out at the Fuller Gym in Chicago, where he is the only white member. Other athletes in the gym don't tease him. "they treat me with respect," he said, adding, "everyone calls me Little Marciano because of my aggressive style."

Every morning, he wakes up at 7 a.m. and runs a brisk five miles in his suburban community of Hoffman Estates, before driving to the gym in the city. There, he trains until about 3 p.m. then rests until 7 p.m., when he runs another slow five miles.

"Wind is the most important thing in boxing," he said.

Besides being quick on his feet, Bettis' specialty is his right-hand punch.

A dream of Bettis' is to fight Michael Spinks, world champion light heavyweight at the Rosemont Horizon.

To keep his weight down, Bettis does not eat red meat but consumes plenty of fish, chicken and vegetables. He also is a regular user of natural herbs. "The last two weeks before a fight I almost starve," he quipped. Also excluded from his diet is hard liquor, except for an occasional glass of wine — his favorite after a fight.

What about fear? For Bettis, there is no fear of the other man but rather, a fear of possible injury. "It's a life and death situation," he said.

Boxing, being a controversial sport because of its physical dangers, does not stop Bettis from pursuing his career to the top. Besides, the only injuries he had so far were cuts and a broken nose. "It's my career. I can't pull out of it because of a scratch here and there."

As a matter of fact, it would take a lot to knock this Bettis down. "I've never been off my feet," he said proudly. Two fights ago, he knocked out Scott Cusatis in the sixth round. But Bettis still has heart because he admitted it bothered him when he put his opponent in the hospital.

Bettis is looking forward to the Wauconda event because it will give him the exposure he needs to be recognized. "Being a main event fighter is when you get the rankings." "This is my chance to let the people see me as a professional. It makes my job easier when there's people out there who know me and support me."

Possibly one of his following will be Wauconda High School football coach Fred Loffredo, who was Bettis' coach. That was the year the school initiated "The Bettis Workout."

Comparing himself to other fighters, some boxers are defensive, moving around all the time but Bettis sees himself as an offensive fighter. "I'm a short, aggressive fighter," he said.

Two inspirational factors to Bettis' career has been the movie, "Rocky," featuring Sylvester Stallone, an Italian prizefighter and his idol, Michael Marcianno.

Trend Or Tick? Rates On Interst Rising

The interest-rate tide is rising slightly again across the nation. The rise could be part of a temporary seasonal up-tick or the beginning of a significant trend.

As usual, the markets overreact to any signals that come their way. For example:

Orders for durable goods rose 1.1 percent in June, a sign that the economy is expanding gradually.

Inflation is creeping along at 3.7 percent and may be dead, or at least dormant. The Federal Reserve Bank may feel that it has achieved its objective to stimulate the economy, and now wishes to cease its efforts to drop interest rates, in order not to rekindle inflation.

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, 2200 S. Main St., Suite 106, Lombard, Ill. 60148.

In recent speeches, Fed Chairman Paul Volcker has ceased mentioning Fed efforts to lower interest rates further. The markets immediately began to behave as though the Fed was going to let rates rise.

Consumer credit is up 20 percent on the year, indicating an economy that is not stagnating, as The Meyers Report has noted for months.

Yields on Treasury instruments moved up a slight 0.11 percentage points from last month. Only short term rates showed any meaningful movement, largely in response to increased consumer credit.

SAVINGS: Average interest rates on money market accounts held at 6.88 percent for the third week in a row. Six and 30-month money certificates remained steady at 7.48 percent and 8.56 percent, respectively.

LOANS: Nationwide, the average interest rates on conventional 30-year mortgages with 20 percent down payments rose slightly to 11.97 percent from 11.95 percent a week earlier.

This week 36-month new car loans averaged 13.20 percent at financial institutions across the country, while rates on 48-month auto loans averaged 13.17 percent.

FORECAST: The Federal Reserve Bank should reduce the discount rate to 7 percent, to limit coming interest rate hikes.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average should hit 1400 by the end of August.

Overnight Fed funds should trade around 7.75 percent, until a lower discount rate drops them back to the 7 percent to 7.5 percent range.

Competition for lendable funds continues to grow. Corporations are in the market for money to expand and retool. The Treasury Department will be seeking $22 billion in new borrowings over the next two weeks. Consumer borrowings will continue to increase, as housing sales rise and everyone with a mortgage of 13 percent or higher is trying to refinance.

Consumer savings and lending instruments should hold reasonably steady for another 30 days, with fluctuations of 0.50 percentage points.

Oil prices will continue to fall to $23 a barrel, and possibly lower. But beware, a shortage of oil is only a spigot twist away -- and too often those who regulate its flow are neither rational nor kind.

As a service to readers, a summary of institutions offering the highest interest rates and yields for savings is available by dialing toll-free 1 (800) 492-5600. To make this service possible, there is a $10 charge to cover the cost of your phone call, postage, handling, printing and data collection.

Reader questions will be answered and may appear in this column when mailed to Gary S. Meyers at: 20 West Hubbard Street, Chicago, Illinois 60610. (C) 1985 by Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd.

RJ's Eatery Is Planning Move

Lindenhurst Mayor Robert R. Ratch announced that RJ's Eatery, Lindenhurst family restaurant, will be relocated across Grand Ave. to the shore of Sand Lake.

Ratch said he met with RJ's owner, Robin Brankey, several months ago encouraging him to explore the opportunities presented by the long-vacant Pine Tree property on Grand Ave. After several months of negotiations, Brankey acquired the property.

Brankey said he was optimistic about the growth of Lindenhurst and convinced that relocation would enable him to accommodate the additional community growth.

The relocation will be completed by mid-October. Until the move, Brankey will continue to operate RJ's from its present location at 2122 E. Grand Ave.

At his new location, Brankey said he will offer the same menu, prices and expand the carry-out facilities.

The new restaurant and bar will offer seating for over 200 and an extraordinary view overlooking Sand Lake. The newly-paved parking area will be well lit and readily accessible from either Grand Ave. or Granada Blvd.

Green County: The Old World Charm

Green County, Wis., south and central in the state, got its name for lush foliage and rolling farmlands. It's a tranquil escape into Old World charm and hospitality. New Glarus is known for its rich Swiss heritage, fine cheeses, lace embroidery and authentic Old World architecture duplicating Swiss chalets.

Costume clothing styles and singing, yodeling, horn blowing and bell ringing are customs still observed. Annual festivals, related to classical Heidi and William Tell, Switzerland's national hero, are popular with residents and visitors. Labor Day weekend will be the time for the William Tell drama, in German and English. Rental bikes are available.

More than 50 thousand hikers and bikers cover all or part of the 23 mile Trail each year. It follows the valley's abandoned and improved right-of-way of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad.

For a scenic two hour drive, Sunday, Aug. 4, will be the Swiss Volksfest, much like our July 4. They are followed by the Fall festivals over Labor Day weekend, with afternoon dramas, evening Alpine festivities and art displays.

New Glarus can be reached by following I-90, then going west on Hwy. 11 to Monroe, the Cheese capitol. Pick up Hwy. 69 and follow north to New Glarus. It's almost like visiting Switzerland...even the countryside is similar. For details, contact Green County Tourism, Box 516-I, Monroe, Wis., 53566, or (608) 325-3267.

Travel Agents Preview Brand New 'Holiday'

Carnival Cruise Lines invited Bob and Carol Neumann and Tom Strauser and Carol Millay-Strauser to preview their brand new Superliner M/S Holiday. The four local agents, from Cruise Tours Travel Center in Fox Lake, flew to Miami and boarded the Superliner Holiday for a three day, two night pre-inaugural "Cruise to Nowhere."

The Superliner Holiday is a newly constructed vessel leaving from Miami with stops in St. Maarten, St. Thomas and Nassau. At 46,000 tons, the Holiday is the largest cruise ship built for "one-class" cruising and the third largest cruise ship (overall) in the world. "She's the most unbelievable cruise ship that I have ever seen," says Carol Neumann, owner and manager of Cruise-Tours. "I have sailed on 26 ships and previewed at least 15 others and I've never seen any ship as exciting and innovative as the Holiday," she continued.

Carnival Cruise Lines invited 1200 travel agents from the United States, Canada, South America and Europe to be a part of their three-day pre-inaugural celebration.

Cruise-Tours Travel Center has a long-standing relationship with Carnival Cruise Lines, having been inducted into the Carnival Million Dollar Club in September of 1983 and having been in the top five finalists for Carnival's prestigious "Agency Of The Year" award for the past two years. "We really feel excited about the new Carnival product," remarked Carol Millay, Vice President of Sales for Cruise-Tours. "The Holiday is common-rated with all of the other Carnival ships, so a seven night cruise (including air from Chicago) starts at only $945.00 per person. That's quite remarkable considering the Holiday is brand new and cost over $70 million to build," she said.

Bob Neumann and Tom Strauser were in charge of photography and they will have pictures and a video of the ship ready for display soon. "Check our window display or come in and see our video programs," they said.

Cruise-Tours Travel Center is located at 20 E. Grand, Fox Lake.

Artistic Creations Offer Original Designs

by DEBBIE HORVE

Artistic Creations, owned by Kevin Chick and Lorelee Guenther of Grayslake, has been in existence for three years.

The company was formed when the couple got married three years ago. "Lorelee had a beautiful home which gave us the idea," said Chick.

Artistic Creations distributes and installs custom designed mouldings and decorative trim for customers in the United States, both commercial and residential.

Artistic Creations recieved an award for their architectural trim and mouldings.

Chick, a graduate of Northern Illinois Univeristy with a degree in art, has also designed and built porches, basements, spas, saunas, hot tubs, gazebos, taverns, restaurants and bathrooms in homes.

Remodeling and restorations are also a part of Artistic Creations. Guenther and Chick have just completed their first total house restoration. The home, located on Park Ave.

in Grayslake, was completely restored inside and outside and is now up for sale.

Chick designed and redid a 106 unit hotel at Panama City Beach. "It was a three month project at Pier 99. It was the oldest pier in Panama City," Chick said.

Chick also designed and built the first passive solar room addition in Chicago. The addition was passive since it has no pumps or water system. "It relies totally on solar power," Chick said.

Antioch Women's Club Sets Tag Day

Mary Hallett of the Antioch Women's Club is announcing that a Tag Day to benefit the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society will take place during two of Antioch's Maxwell Street Days, Friday and Saturday, August 2 and 3.

Again this year with the cooperation of Florence Babusek, marketing officer of the State Bank of Antioch, volunteers from the community, which this year will include 10 members of the Town & Country 4-H Club under the leadership of Carol Whitten, as well as 30 volunteers from church groups and the Antioch Women's Club will be tagging contributors to the area Unit of the Cancer Society with Cancer's Seven Warning Signals.

Volunteers will man nine stations during Maxwell Street Days on Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

These concerned citizens will be seeking donations in support of the purpose of the Illinois Division of the ACS which is "to prevent cancer and to reduce its effects," explained Hallett.

"An important part of the goal to ease the impact of cancer is the effort to assist cancer patients and their families, without charge to them by providing loan of hospital room supplies such as hospital beds, commodes, wheelchairs and walkers," she said. Dressings can be secured and transportation to and from treatment centers can be provided by volunteers.

According to Hallett there are now 17 Antioch drivers who have volunteered to give transportation for cancer patients from Antioch and surrounding areas.

For the past several years volunteer taggers for the Cancer Society have received contributions from Antioch residents in excess of $1,000 in support of the programs of the Lake County Unit, ACS.
